

Story Writing-6

Write a story using these prompts:

1. The Missing Library Book

Write a story about a student who discovers that their overdue library book has mysteriously vanished from their bedroom. As they search for it, they begin finding strange clues that suggest the book might have come alive. What happens next? Include details about the book and the clues they discover.

2. A Day When Objects Float

Imagine waking up one morning to find that random objects in your house start floating to the ceiling. Write a story about how you and your family deal with this strange situation. Remember to include dialogue and describe how different family members react.

3. The New Student

Create a story about your class getting a new student who seems different from everyone else - they never eat lunch, have an unusual accent, and sometimes appear to glow faintly. Write about how you discover their extraordinary secret. Focus on building suspense and developing the character.

4. Trading Places with Your Pet

Write about magically switching bodies with your pet for a day. Describe what it feels like to be in your pet's body, what you learn about your pet's daily life, and any adventures or challenges you face. Don't forget to include how you switch back!

5. The Last Day of Summer

On the final day of summer vacation, you find a map in your grandparents' attic that leads to something exciting in your own neighborhood. Write about your journey following the map and what you discover. Include detailed descriptions of the location and your feelings throughout the adventure.

Some practice questions-

1. A student finds a mysterious note in their locker
2. A pet learns to talk
3. The day the internet disappeared
4. A magical object appears in your backyard

Guidelines for each story:

- Word limit: 120-150 words
- Include at least two characters
- Use descriptive language
- Have a clear beginning, middle, and end
- Include some dialogue
- Show characters' emotions through their actions
- End with a satisfying conclusion

Extension Activities

1. Swap stories with a friend and give feedback
2. Illustrate your favorite scene
3. Write an alternative ending
4. Create a character profile for your protagonist
5. Turn your story into a comic strip
